

Sinclair media's decision to air an anti-Kerry documentary close to the election is not only disrespectful towards American citizens who deserve a fair and balanced media, but it is a violation of campaign finance law.

Free speech and the public forum are an essential part of our democracy. By offering, in effect, a free commercial to the Bush campaign, Sinclair undermines our democracy.